

Research Faculty eaves of Absence Frequently Asked Questions

Which titles fall into the category of Research Faculty?

Faculty with the following titles are considered Research Faculty: Research Professor, Research Associate Professor, Research Assistant Professor, Senior Research Investigator, Research Scientist Professor, Research Scientist Professor, and Research Scientist Professor.

What benefits are available for medical leave

Full-time Research Faculty with at least 6 months of service allowed up to 6 months of paid leave in cases in which a serious personal dical condition recovery following the birth of a chi(typically up to 6 weeks of leave for recovery after birth, or longer as medically necessary) sitate their time away from work.

What aboutparental leave?

4 weeks of paid parental available for Research Faculty who have least 3 years of continuous service or who are serving in an appointment of 3 years or great the time of the leave. For a mother who gives birth this is in addition to any medical leave taken (see previous question).

Why is this information being shared now

As part of the shift in administrative oversight of Research Faculty appointments from the Office for Research to the Office of the Provost, the Office of the Provost has worked with the Office for Research and with Human Resources to clarify policies in place to support Researchty, focusing first on leaves of absence. Research Faculty are a critical component of the University's research mission, and it is the University's goal to strengthen and provide clarity regarding the options available to members of this community who may need to take time away from work for medical childbirth-related reasons.

How are the above leavesifferent from FMLA?

Any research faculty with at least one year (1,250 hours) of continuous mellservice will remain eligible for up to 12 weeks of unpaid, jobprotected leave under the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA). It is expected that any leaves taken for FMLA purposes would occur concurrently with those taken for self medical conditions including birth, or parental leave